WOMEN LAWYERS

INSPIRING YOUR CAREER YOUR WAY

Join us in Ringwood to hear Canda Glanville from Maurice Blackburn give some inspirational career advice for female suburban lawyers, touching on effective leadership, networking, personal branding and more. The event will also be a great opportunity to network with other women lawyers.

Canda is a principal and regional office leader of Maurice Blackburn's Frankston office. She is the 2017 winner of the Suburban Lawyer of the Year Award at the LIV awards, along with being a highly accomplished road accident and workplace injury lawyer, and a LIV accredited specialist. Canda is also the Victorian Convenor of Maurice Blackburn's Women's Network, which, among its objectives, seeks to support women to achieve their personal and professional potential.

Canda is committed to demonstrating professional excellence and ensuring injured clients have quality legal representation and access to justice in their local community. She is also passionate about promoting the benefits of pursuing a legal career in suburban areas. Canda has a special interest in the health and wellbeing of lawyers and exploring innovative solutions for those who practise law away from the city.
