

Brazen Hussies Virtual Film Screening

In celebration of the Women's Liberation Movement

Followed by live Q&A with Catherine Dwyer & Sue Maslin AO

VWL, in collaboration with Womens Barristers Association and Women's Legal Service Victoria, welcomes you to a screening of Brazen Hussies, a documentary written and directed by Catherine Dwyer, Executive Produced by Sue Maslin AO and Produced by Phillipa Campey and Andrea Foxworthy.

A documentary celebrating the bold women of the Women's Liberation Movement who reignited Australia's feminist revolution in 1965 - 1975.

Catherine was an Associate Producer - Post Production, Researcher and Assistant Editor on the critically acclaimed documentary film She's Beautiful When She's Angry (2014), a grassroots herstory of the birth of the women's' liberation movement in the United States.

Sue is one of Australia's most successful film, television and digital content producers with a track record of creating award winning feature and documentary films. Reflecting her commitment to advocacy for women, Sue is currently a Patron of Women In Film and Television and the President of the Natalie Miller Fellowship, an organisation dedicated to inspiring leadership and increasing the participation of women in the screen industry.
