In the 'new normal' world we live in, building your network is more important than ever. Victorian Women Lawyers is thrilled to introduce Networking Makes its Comeback. Join us for an evening of connecting with your peers. Guests will also hear from our very special guest speaker, Emily Barnes.

Emily is a mediator and public speaker who is an expert on personal branding and networking. She understands that networking is a skill and aims to encourage and equip people with the tools that they need to effectively create a network around them. Emily is no stranger to sharing her knowledge, she has been interviewed by Lisa Leong of This Working Life on ABC Radio on the topic of How to Negotiate for a Pay Rise.

Bring along friends and colleagues (and business cards) for a night of learning and networking. Drinks and nibbles will be provided.

Dress code is "dress for your day", whatever that may be for you!
